This is a set of tutorials designed to familiarize new users with HPC (High-Performance Computing) and introduce the concepts that motivate its use in computational research. These tutorials will enable users to navigate and effectively utilize Dartmouth's HPC systems.

- [Research Computing at Dartmouth]

- Lesson 0 -- What is HPC / DartFS?

- Lesson 1 -- Logging into the HPC systems / HPC systems overview

- Lesson 2 -- Environment Modules / Submitting an interactive jobs

- Lesson 3 -- Estimating job resources / Submitting a batch job
